History
Stone Age

What I already know…

That life today and life in the past has similarities and differences.
I know about important historical events (WW1, Olympics & Titanic) and their impact.

Sticky Knowledge

I can use dates and terms related to the study unit and passing of time.
I can find out about everyday lives of people in time studied.

Cave Paintings

Hunter-gatherers often painted and engraved the inside of caves and huts. The Palaeolithic people decorated their cave walls either by carving or engraving them with sharp stones, or by painting them with pigment made from minerals. Rust was obtained from stones that produced a red colour and black came from charcoal. The colours were mixed with water to make paint. They were applied to the walls with either fingers, fur or brushes made from twigs. The paintings often represented daily life such as men hunting, animals and women gathering crops.

Homes

Humans during the Stone Age lived in caves, and many groups used fire to keep homes warm. Needles made out of bone from that time have also been found as this could be evidence that humans may have sewn animal skins together for shelter. People also lived in huts made of wood and had hearths for fire.

I am a HISTORIAN because

I am able to describe events from the past using dates when things happened
I can use a timeline within a specific time in history to set out the order things may have happened
I can identify similarities and differences between given periods in history
I appreciate how items found belonging to the past can help us to build a picture of how people lived
I can describe how my local area was different in the past and begin to offer explanations for these changes
I can understand the differences between AD and BC
